

Advanced Certificate in Labour Laws in Trinidad & Tobago

Quick Overview

Description

In addition to other relevant statutes, this Course offers an immersive overview of the legislative framework governing labour relations and the world of work in T&T, as a foundation for improving the competency and capacity of practitioners and business owners to effectively, and correctly, manage workplace issues and mitigate human capital risk.

Learners will gain important insights for understanding, interpreting, and applying these laws in their respective organisations or to various employment issues such as industrial action, employment contracts and other labour related matters.
